

Proposal: Equity in High School Admissions

By Lisa Jeanne Graf

Make High School admissions have equal access for all students (with some exceptions due to student needs).

There would be one application process for all schools including exam schools. An additional test for the exam school and a portfolio or audition for the Arts Academy could be an add on.

The exam school test would be a test that all students would all take (unless the student opted out), possibly the MCAS or PARC test. It could be offered during school hours and on the weekend.
